

North Wood

Solving The Mystery Of Talent

As a violinist North Wood has worked with such world famous artists as Barbra Streisand, Ella Fitzgerald, Elton John, Placido Domingo, Andrew Lloyd Webber and has performed as concertmaster under John Williams. He has won competitions and played on the soundtracks to over two hundred major motion pictures including Schindlers List, The Green Mile, A few Good Men and Mrs. Doubtfire. As a solo artist he has won competitions, performed major violin concertos with symphony orchestras, performed with nationally recognized orchestra ensembles, played on the soundtracks to Academy Award winning movies and has worked with the worlds most famous Grammy Award winning artists.

As a professional speaker his techniques and insights have helped major Corporations and Associations reach their goals. These include, New York Life, Century 21, TRW., Litton Aero Products, the National School Boards Association and many more. With his unique blend of philosophy, down to earth techniques and musical entertainment, he is regarded as one of the most original and entertaining speakers in the country.

North Wood believes that the knowledge he has acquired during his 30 years as a performing artist can be applied to all jobs and skills. Those attending his inspiring presentations leave with a sense of clarity regarding what goals need to be reached and how to reach them. His inspiring talk will show you how to rediscover your passion for work and achievement, give you a deeper understanding of the laws of personal change, techniques for reaching goals, your creativity and your talent. Live classical music is performed throughout his presentation to illustrate points and ideas.